

Bauwelt Praxis 2020

Plan with us... 10x each year, the Bauwelt editorial department researches an overview of materials, designs and their application. Eight topics geared to the year's trade fairs relevant to architects and the construction sector bring together all relevant products on the market in one Bauwelt field edition. The decision-makers in the industry voice their views, building structures are discussed with a focus on use of materials, interviews with the architects and building professionals. Background information, solid material research as well as contact details on the marketplace pages complement this extensive special section of Bauwelt.
